Deal Detailed Description

We rely on home personal computers for just about everything in our day to day lives ... business, communication, word processing, record keeping, research, entertainment, music, etc. And when computer problems arise, it can throw our daily routine and functionality into a tailspin. In Home Computer Repair Service (IHCRS) specializes in making prompt house calls to individuals and small businesses afflicted with computer woes, in the South, Southwest, and Western Suburbs and downtown Chicago.

Now, exclusively on Wantsadeal, IHCRS is offering 1-hour computer repair service for just $35 or 53% off the regular price of $75. In addition to computer repair, free spyware and anti-virus software are also included. Family owned and operated, IHCRS offers same day response and over 15 years of technical experience. Whether the issue is error messages, virus repair, spam or increasing Internet speed, IHCRS offers prompt personalized attention at affordable rates to keep your PC running like a champ with little disruption. In addition they offer computer updates, data backup and networking.

Don't settle for a PC that operates inefficiently. And if you do experience a major malfunction (knock on wood), don't settle for endless troubleshooting and long wait times. IHCRS will pinpoint the problem with fast and convenient solutions. While one hour of computer repair service is included in the deal, go ahead and buy up to four hours of service to get your computer working like new.
